

Deep beneath the magical sea in Fairy Land, King Neptune was swimming back and forth as he spoke to three mermaids: Mercinda, Mandy and Meredith. They had brought him some bad news. His daughter, Princess Pearl, whom he referred to as his 'Pearl of the Sea' had been captured by some extremely bad pirates. They had used a magical fish net that a bad Sea Witch named Scully had put a spell on. King Neptune knew that his daughter was always very cautious when she was out swimming, especially anywhere near ships. She never would have allowed herself to be captured, had it not been for the witch's spell which had rendered the net completely invisible.
